

The Report of the President-Elect to IFEA

May, 2013

As Dr. Patrick Bogaerts reported last year: There is not much for the President-Elect to do. I have read the many emails and added my suggestions where I felt it was appropriate. I have also taken special note of all the energetic and wonderful contributions that our other officers have made.

Due to the health of Dr. Maggio, I have offered to take the responsibility of the checkbook whenever he deems it necessary.

I have also offered the services of the University of Texas at Houston Continuing Education Department for providing CERP credits for the courses at the World Congress. Dr. Hideaki Suda has been in contact with our department and is now able to offer these credits to those participants that can use them. It has been a long, detailed and complicated process but it will now be possible for the 2013 meeting and the 2016 meeting. Dr. Suda and his team is to be commended for their excellent attention to detail.

I have closely monitored the duties and operations of all the officers and report that they have all done their jobs in an exemplary manner.

Respectfully submitted,

Prof. Samuel Dorn
President-Elect, IFEA
